2003 & Buyer's Guide Resource Directory

Tree Farmer is the official magazine of the 65,000-member American Tree Farm System™ (ATFS). It is published six times a year for subscribers and new Tree Farmers, and for 7,000 volunteer foresters who participate in the System. Opinions do not necessarily represent those of the Tree Farm System.

Tree Farmer magazine is a bi-monthly forest enhancement publication by Tree Farmers for Tree Farmers and all who benefit from their endeavors. Tree Farmer espouses the environmental benefits of sustainable production of forest products through responsible forest stewardship on private forestlands. With information, advocacy, and practical advice, the magazine promotes sustainable forest practices for multiple benefits to society.

34 Adapt Your Fire Management for the "Home Forest"

In a year that produced yet another record-setting wildfire season in the western United States, former Forest Service researcher Steve Arno and science writer Steven Allison-Bunnell urge Tree Farmers to demonstrate how to nurture forests that are fire-resistant and sustainable. And forestry consultant Kurt Swearingen explains how stewardship efforts — from carefully choosing locations for fuel breaks to thinning — can "fire-safe" both homes and forest resources.
